Earth.ly 3.0 by JSES SC honors planet Earth

In commemoration of Earth Day, the JSES Student Council proudly presented Earth.ly, a vibrant and engaging festival dedicated to celebrating our planet and promoting sustainable living practices. The event kicked off with an immersive gardening workshop, where attendees of all ages learnt the fundamentals of cultivating green spaces. A captivating photo exhibition captured the beauty of our natural world while also shedding light on pressing environmental issues. JSES also organised a panel discussion with prominent members in the field of sustainability, shedding light on rising issues and their solutions. Complementing the workshops and exhibitions were stalls showcasing a diverse array of sustainable businesses and initiatives. Earth.ly's marketplace provided a platform for entrepreneurs and activists dedicated to driving positive change. By fostering a deeper connection to the natural world and promoting actionable solutions, the festival embodied the spirit of Earth Day and underscored the collective responsibility we share in protecting our planet for generations to come.

A scribble day event to JSLH graduating batch of '24

JSLH Student Council bid a heartfelt goodbye to their graduating batch with a spectacular Scribble Day event!

It was an evening filled with laughter, creativity, and memories...

It was an evening filled with laughter, creativity, and memories that will last a lifetime. We're so proud of our students for showcasing their artistic talents and for leaving their mark on JSLH and JGU.

A day dedicated to personal narratives & resilience

Girl Up JGU hosted Humans of Jindal in collaboration with JGBS, bringing together a vibrant array of events. The event showcased a diverse range of activities, including Tasqira, a bustling carnival filled with student-led stalls offering a variety of items such as jewellery, polaroid photos, flowers, posters and more. Additionally, participants

Aperture hosts 4th edition of its bi-annual exhibition

JGU's Photography Society, Aperture celebrated this spring semester, it's fourth edition of the very beloved bi-annual tradition, i.e., the Exhibition.

This time, it went by title Elixir, and it stood to be a celebration of art and all things aesthetic and fine, true to its nature and motto.

The range of art that was put up, from portraits and landscapes to graphics, were all at its best and pleasing to the eye, attests to Aperture's ability to thrive and grow in terms of the photographer's ability to catch the unexplored angles and the perfect stilt of light. Music Society's soulful renditions through the evening added to the whole experience.

Students showcase excellence in Switzerland

Once again, JGU students have showcased their excellence!
