IT'S FUN TIME FOR FRESHERS AT 10TH EDITION OF BUDDY PROJECT

At the O.P. Jindal Global University, there's always something to cheer for both the incoming as well as existing students.

The concept of Buddy Project is a unique idea to make new students feel at home. The sense of camaraderie and warmth is what resonates with all those who associate themselves with the university.

Like every year, this year too Buddy Project not just had fun activities, like a water balloon fight, chatroulette, scavenger hunt and talent night, but it also had a fire drill session and other general sensitization sessions.

“The primary goal of Buddy Project is to acclimatize the new students to the social, cultural and academic environment of JGU, rooted in the very ethos of Jindal’s legacy, carried forward and handed down every year,” said a Coordination Committee member of Buddy Project.

JGU team makes the nation proud at Vienna

The negotiating team comprising Anshul Kumar Sarma, Pankhuri Gupta, Akshat Jha, and Swara Popat, represented JGU in Vienna, Austria, from 7-12 July, at The IBA-VIAC CDRC Vienna - The Mediation and Negotiation Competition 2023, one of the biggest and most prestigious ADR Competitions.

The team was selected to participate at CDRC after an extremely competitive application process, as one of only 24 negotiating teams from a pool of applicant teams from around the world. Their performance at the competition was recognised with the award for the ‘Best Negotiation and Mediation Strategy’.

This is the third time in nine editions that a team from JGU has been selected to participate. They are the only Indian negotiating team to have won an award at the competition. The team was coached by Mr. AJ Jawad, a professional mediator in India. Mr. Umar Safras, a postgraduate law student from Sri Lanka, also helped them.
