Gala dinner for members of outgoing Student Councils

Selected for prestigious King's College, UK

Prithviraj Singh Chauhan, student at JGLS, has been selected for the prestigious King's College London to pursue LLM, where he plans to pursue a specialization in International Business Law. During his studies here at JGU, Prithviraj has been involved in various co-curricular activities. Last summer, he went on to attend a summer school program at our partner, Stockholm University, and studied modules in International Business and Humanitarian law.

Opinion piece by JSES student published in The Statesman

An opinion piece by Prabhroop Kaur, a first-year student at Jindal School of Environment and Sustainability (JSES), and Prof. Govind Singh has been published in the prestigious newspaper The Statesman.

Being a student of BSc in Environment and Sustainable Development, Prabhroop's always wanted to work around sustainable agriculture and food systems. "With this article I tried to explore the basics of our food system and the waste it accounts for," she says.

Hailing from Punjab, the lush green farms and the cycle of crop production there made Prabhroop interested in exploring various agricultural concepts.

Shuban Sheth and Kaushiki Singh of JGLS become the first Asian team to win the Sports Law Arbitration Moot 2023 at Lausanne, Switzerland.

POLO MATCH AT JGC GROUNDS

An Exhibition Polo Match was recently organized by JGU Equitation at Jindal Global City (JGC), where talented JGU students showcased their polo skills.

The match played between the JGU Missiles and the JGU Titans was won by the former. Ms Deeksha Khera, Chief, Office of Student Affairs, was the Chief Guest at the match. She inspired the participating students with her comments and presented a trophy to the victorious team. The match was enjoyed by over 200 students. Ms Khera was “fascinated” seeing the skills presented by JGU students.

“I am really pleased to see how the students exhibited their polo talents. We will plan similar matches in the future too,” stated Col Babru Bhan Yadav, SC, SM, Director, Department of Equitation, JGU.

PICC explores internship opportunities

The JSPC Psychology Internship and Career Club (PICC) organised an event to inform students about internship options.

For the same, an exhibition was set up so that students could acquire all of the information they needed about JSPC’s relationships and the sorts of internship opportunities they provide.

Two activities were planned to engage students: send a letter to their graduating self or leave oneself pleasant comments. The second activity was a psychological quiz in which students were rewarded with chocolates for accurate answers.

ALUMNI NEWS

Few JGU students who have done exceedingly well in various fields

“In 2022, I applied and received a fully-funded scholarship to pursue a doctoral program in Antarctic social sciences at the University of Tasmania, which is what I am currently working on,” Vaibhavi Dwivedi, JGU Alumni.

“JGU gave a direction to my career, provided the perfect launchpad to start my career,” Prashant Ghosh. He works as Distribution Manager at Nuvoco Vistas Corporation Limited, Ranchi, Jharkhand.

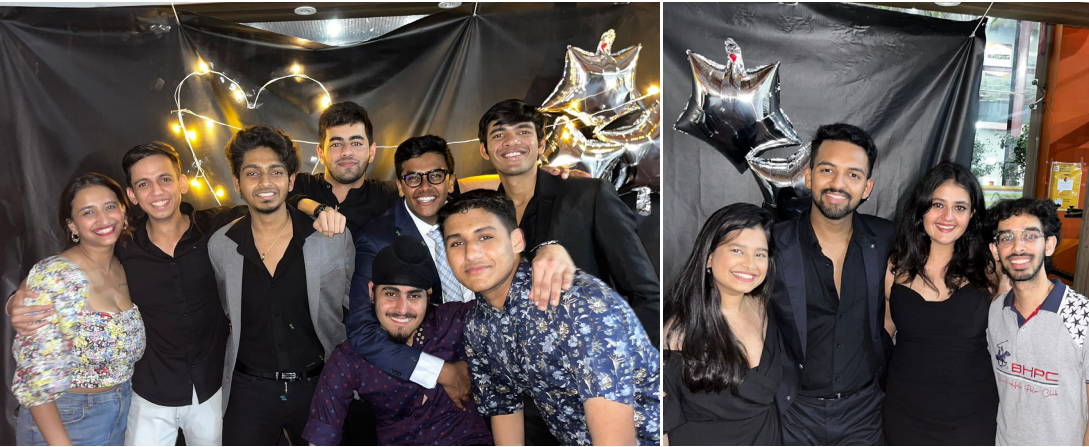

“I pursued my masters in psychology from the University of Essex. In 2022, I established the Mindveda, which is a mental health clinic situated in Delhi,” Alumni Shivangi Gupta.

Alumni Kunal Sinha says he has represented clients at the Hon’ble Supreme Court of India, the High Court of Delhi and District Courts in Delhi.

A one of its kind ‘1970s disco theme night’

The student councils of JSGP, JSJC, JSPC, and JSIA recently collaborated to organise a ‘70s Themed Disco Party’.

The event’s theme was “70s Bollywood,” and students, particularly graduating batches, attended in huge numbers. They were all overjoyed to be invited to the costume party.

“As we approached the busiest part of the semester, we wanted to provide students with

The theme for the event was to celebrate the 1970s Bollywood a small break from their studies and work. And what better way to unwind than by relieving good old-fashioned retro fun,” adds Manasa Kashi, Cultural Secretary, JSGP Student Council 2022-23.

MAKING MEMORIES: A TOKEN OF GRATITUDE TO GRADUATING SENIORS

La Soirée: A fun-filled evening by students of JSIA

The JSIA Student Council organized a farewell for the graduating class of 2023. The event titled 'La Soirée' was a fun filled evening that featured performances by the junior batches as a thank you to their seniors. It was a great way to finish the students' stay on campus.

"I couldn't have gotten a better send-off from my juniors. I really loved it! Everything -- the memory wall, the movies of my recollections, the performances -- made me nostalgic. I am thankful to have studied at JSIA. Thank you students!" B.S. Ashish, former President of the JSIA Student Council, concurs.

JSLH brings to the fore their own version of Paris

With the theme being "An Evening in Paris" the Jindal School of Literature & Humanities' graduating batch of 2020 arrived at the venue carrying with them their mini-version of Paris.

The night began with a very emotional movie created by the junior batches. It featured memories (pictures, clips, and experiences) generated by the 2020 batch throughout their time at the institution. It was followed by dance and music performances. Songs were dedicated to their beloved seniors.

The students spent the remainder of the night dancing and photographing their final event on campus.

Memorable evening for graduating batch of JSBF

From award-winning moments to dance floor magic, photobooth memories to delectable thalis, the farewell organised by the Jindal School of Business & Finance marked the conclusion of a memorable journey for the graduating batch.

The farewell by JSBF saw various dance and singing performances by junior students for their seniors

"We've laughed, learned, and grown together both online and offline," they said as the curtains closed, embracing the parting. "We treasured every joyful tear shed, every memory etched in our hearts, and every step taken towards a brighter future," says S.S. Rajagopal, President of the JSBF Student Council.

"To the class of 2020, may your aspirations fly and your passion endure. Farewell, and may our paths cross again on the journey of life!"

JT 4.0 EXPLORES THE FUTURE OF JOURNALISM & MEDIA LANDSCAPE

The Jindal School of Journalism & Communications (JSJC) conducted the fourth edition of its annual academic fest, Journalism Tomorrow!

This year's theme was 'Mass Media and Censorship'. This goal for this year was to dive into the problems and opportunities posed by modern media censorship.

JT 4.0 included a number of seminars, discussions, and keynote talks that examined various topics of media censorship and its influence on journalism.

This year's speakers, including prominent journalists

JT 4.0 featured various workshops, panels, and keynote speeches by experts such as Abhinandan Sekhri, Ghazala Wahab, Hartosh Singh Bal, Josy Joseph, among others. Mr. Sreenivasan Jain, a prominent journalist, delivered the final talk at JT 4.0. Mr. Jain was a well-known face on NDTV.

This year, JT had its first Short Film Competition and the winning films were also screened for everyone to watch and enjoy.

The Esports and Creation society of JGU hosted the finals for their annual Esports league JESL. The League was a huge success, with more than 150 students participating across five games. The event also included the Esports Arcade, which is the Society's endeavour to promote Esports among university students.

Esports has grown in popularity at JGU in recent years, with a growing audience. "The students' level of play is remarkable. It's fantastic to see new players coming in and taking part," says Shaurya, President of ESC SOC, adding, "We had a few sponsors too chipping in. The next time we organise the league, we will definitely raise the bar."

In tune! Dancing to Bulgarian folklore

Student Life and Cultural Engagement, JGU, organised a dance workshop by famous Bulgarian dancer Katya Tosheva. She began the performance with traditional Indian dance techniques before moving on to a workshop on Bulgarian Folk Dance. Madhav Modani, a Board Member at RAQS: JGU Dance Society, was delighted to be a part of the workshop. He stated that such workshops aid in the learning of new dance styles and skills. "I thank JGU for this incredible opportunity," he adds. Katya is a Bulgarian dancer who draws inspiration from Indian culture and customs. She had the distinction of preparing a dance programme for the Indian President's visit to Bulgaria, as well as for a number of events hosted by the Indian Embassy. Her performances are received glowing reviews in Greece, Cyprus, Spain, France, Serbia and India.
