More Than Just a GOODBYE

Safarnama '26: Celebrating the Journey, Cherishing the Memories

Safarnama '26 was a celebration of friendship, growth, and shared experiences — a fitting tribute to a graduating batch preparing to embark on new beginnings

Safarnama'26 was a vibrant two-day farewell celebration organised by the JGLS Student Council 2026-27 in association with the Office of the Executive Dean of JGLS to honour the graduating batch and celebrate the memories they created throughout their journey together.

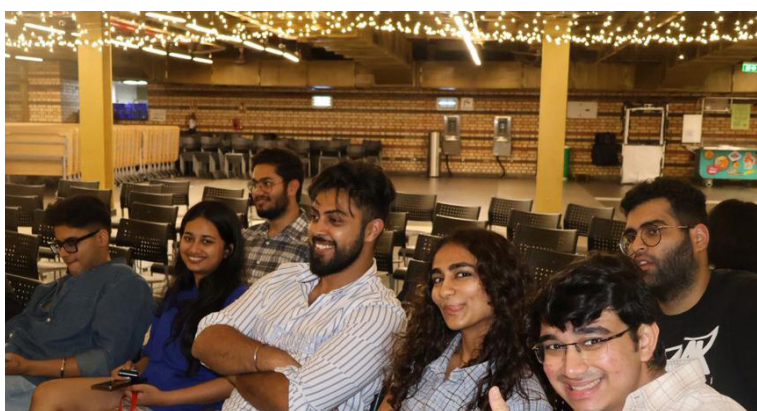

The celebrations began with a series of friendly cricket matches that brought the graduating batch together on the field one last time. More than a sporting event, the matches were an opportunity for students to reconnect, relive old memories and celebrate the friendships that had shaped their university experience. The evening was filled with laughter, cheering and a strong sense of camaraderie as students reflected on their shared journey.

The second day offered a blend of nostalgia, entertainment and heartfelt moments. A highlight of the evening was a series of light-hearted awards based on nominations by classmates, celebrating the personalities, quirks and memorable moments that had become a part of batch culture over the years.

The event also featured a farewell video and aftermovie that took students through their journey at JGU, showcasing photographs and clips from their first days on campus to the friendships and experiences that defined their time at the university campus.

More than a farewell, Safarnama '26 was a celebration of friendship, growth and shared experiences — a fitting tribute to a graduating batch preparing to embark on new beginnings.

Celebrating the JS GP Class of 2026

The JS GP Farewell, organised by the JS GP Student Council marked a memorable evening dedicated to celebrating the graduating class and their journey at the university. Bringing together students, faculty and staff, the event created a warm and reflective atmosphere filled with laughter, heartfelt moments and shared memories.

The evening featured engaging performances, nostalgic reflections and opportunities for the graduating students to look back on the experiences that shaped their academic and personal growth. Friends reminisced about milestones achieved together, while faculty members shared words of encouragement and appreciation for the graduating cohort's contributions to the JS GP community.

More than a farewell, the event was a celebration of friendships forged, lessons learned and accomplishments earned over the years.

As the graduates prepare to embark on new professional and personal journeys, the JS GP community bid them goodbye with pride, gratitude and best wishes for success in all their future endeavours.

Equinox: A Creative Pause for the Mind

In the midst of demanding schedules, deadlines and the fast-paced rhythm of university life, Equinox offered students a welcome opportunity to slow down and reconnect with themselves. Organised by the JSLL Student Council, the flagship wellness event has become a cherished tradition on campus over the past two years.

Designed as a space for relaxation, creativity and meaningful social interaction, Equinox encouraged students to step away from their academic responsibilities and immerse themselves in artistic expression. Participants spent the day painting canvases and pouches, transforming simple materials into vibrant works of art while sharing conversations and laughter with colleagues and friends.

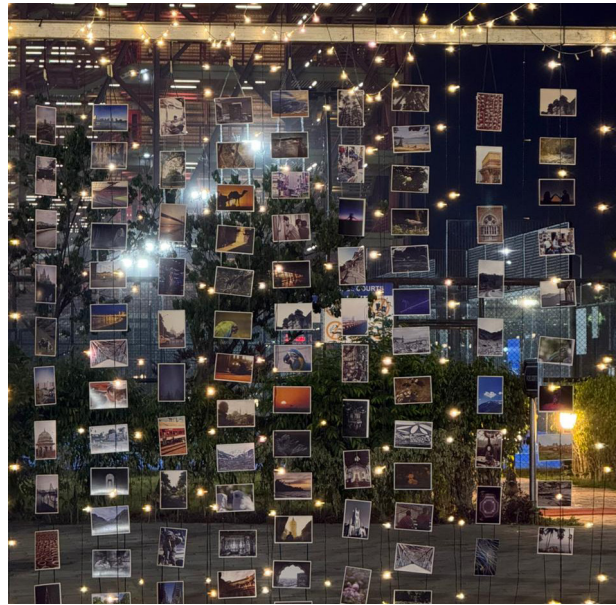

More than just an art activity, the event served as a reminder of the importance of mental well-being and self-care. By fostering a calm, inclusive and enjoyable environment, Equinox provided students with an avenue to de-stress, recharge and embrace creativity without the pressure of performance or evaluation.

Through initiatives like Equinox, the JSLL Student Council plans to create spaces that promote balance, mindfulness and community.

Afsaneh: A Visual Journey Through Light, Memory and Meaning

Aperture, the Photography and Creative Culture Club, unveiled Afsaneh, its bi-annual photography exhibition that transformed familiar campus spaces into a gallery of stories and perspectives.

The exhibition showcased a diverse collection of photographs by student artists who found beauty and meaning in everyday moments. Through their lenses, ordinary scenes were turned into compelling visual narratives, capturing emotions, memories and experiences often overlooked in the rush of daily life. What made Afsaneh stand out was its ability to preserve fleeting moments with authenticity. Free from elaborate staging, the photographs highlighted genuine expressions and experiences, demonstrating the power of visual storytelling.

Visitors explored the exhibition at their own pace, engaging with images that inspired reflection, curiosity and conversation. The thoughtful interplay of light and shadow created an atmosphere that encouraged viewers to interpret each frame in their own way.
